

Lions help Pink Ladies

The Dragons Abreast Pink Ladies receive a donation from the Caloundra Lions club.

Dragons Abreast's Pink Ladies were presented with $1000 by Lions members Ian Collinson and Norm Jensen last week during one of their training sessions.

A breast cancer survivor group, the Australia-wide Dragons Abreast team come together to raise awareness of breast cancer and enjoy working out together by Dragon Boat paddling.

Norm said the money would go towards helping them prepare for the regatta they will be holding at Lake Kawana later this year.

"They like to enjoy themselves on the water and their message to everyone is that there's life after breast cancer," Norm said.

Pauline Dixon, a pink lady on Caloundra's Tittytittybangbang team for two years, said she was looking forward to hosting other Dragons Abreast survivors on her home ground after attending regattas in Brisbane.

"But the main priorities for us are to keep fit, have fun and spread awareness of breast cancer," she said.
